BIBLE THOUGHT OF TODAY

★ THEY SHALL NOT BE WEARY:—They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.—Isaiah 40:31

PATRONIZE WHAT WE HAVE.

Ada has been successful in the past in getting industries to locate here and will probably be just as successful in the future. There is a tendency now, however, it seems to us which if not stopped will greatly retard the growth of the city. This tendency is to patronize industries in other towns instead of those which are here. It is not a matter of dollars and cents so much as it is the spirit of the thing that counts.

We believe that any product made in Ada should be used by the citizens unless there can be a material saving by buying elsewhere, and we believe this cannot generally be done, when everything is figured. It is the duty of every citizen, as we see it, to buy this in preference to that shipped in from other points. How can we go after other industries unless we show the world we appreciate what we already have?

According to a report by the state board of agriculture the first four months of 1922 was the wettest period the state has seen in these months for the past ten years. The month of April especially breaking all records. In Oklahoma City where records have been kept for thirty-two years, it was the wettest April for the entire period. Durant holds the record for both the 10-year average for the first four months of the year and also for the 10-year average for April. The 10-year average for the four months period being 13.05 and the 10-year average for April 5.35. Now that May has started out with a manful effort to break the April record there is certainly enough water in the ground to last for some time to come.

When a fellow gets mad at a teacher or preacher he at once tries to get him fired. Perhaps the fired one will land a much better job and his successor prove a much weaker man, but the irate citizen feels that he has avenged himself. If this same fellow gets mad at the newspaper he at once stops his subscription and then borrows his neighbor's copy. However, the paper continues to do business at the old stand. Some centuries ago the great scientist Galileo was forced under pain of death to recant his heretical teaching that the world moves. However, that did not stop it. The world kept on moving and is still going.

We have remarked that different juries take widely different views of things. While a grand jury at Austin and another at Wichita Falls are spending a lot of time trying to get something on the Ku Klux Klan, a grand jury at Greenville, in its report to the court, commends the Klan for its good work in helping with law enforcement.

Young Dodge, son of the millionaire auto manufacturer, has been sentenced to go to work, otherwise he may spend a year in jail. This time it is on a booze transportation charge. Going to work is a severe sentence for one reared as he has been, but it will teach him a lot.

Troubles are often very much like coyotes. Two or three on the other side of a hill make so much racket that the traveler expects to be attacked and devoured by a pack of a hundred, but when he comes in sight the noise makers are off.

Roff citizens are wanting a supply of gas for their town and will vote on the proposition to issue bonds to the amount of $15,000 to pipe this fuel to Roff. The election will take place on the 29th.

Sometime it does not pay to stop speaking to a man against whom one has a grudge. Just think of all the mean and cutting things you might say if you kept on speaking terms with him.

Jim Reed of Missouri, who seeks another term in the senate, is trying to win sympathy by saying that Wilson is fighting him. It is very much to Wilson's credit if true.

Generally the fellow who howls most about being persecuted is an expert at this game and is only trying to justify himself for throwing mud at the other fellow.

Another peace agreement has been made in Ireland. The Emerald Isle holds the record for the number of peace treaties signed during the past twelve months.

Wearing a seedy suit of clothes does not worry a man much if he is sure everybody knows he has a better one at home.

Seconds and minutes are regarded very lightly but the centuries are only the sum total of these little scraps of time.

The fellow really needs good advice is generally some where else when the advice is passed out.

THE BIG FEATURE OF THE PRIMARIES CIRCUS WILL BE THE "STRADDLE" ACT

The Forum of the Press

Scandals in the Church.

(Hugo News)
There is nothing so disgusting as a deep seated fight within a church. When Christian gets at the throat of Christian there is going to be a whole of a battle. Where the most Christian charity may be reasonably expected often the least is encountered.

The fight that is taking place at Lawton within one of the strongest churches there will get it and the particular church involved more notoriety than all the scandals the county has known for years. It may be true that the press is at fault for printing so much of the fight. But the row is news and the readers want it and there is not a single valid reason in the world why they should not have it.

The trouble lies with the minister and his flock. It may be true that the pastor preached the funeral sermon over the body of the late Jake L. Hamon. It may be that there are men who disapprove the things that he said. We however must confess admiration for the man who had nerve enough to stand by his friend in death who had been his friend in life in a material way. There can be little doubt but that some of the men who criticize this minister for his action in that case at some time or other accepted of the unquestioned bounty of Jake Hamon's open hand.

As we have often said before if a man is good enough to help he is good enough to defend. Friendship must stand regardless of criticism or storm. If this one complaint were all that could be made against the minister of the church at Lawton we should immediately endorse him. But there is the matter of that bathing pool marriage.

Nevertheless the whole matter goes back to that Jake Hamon funeral. Few persons who know the circumstances have ever had anything but admiration for the minister who stood over the bier of his dead friend and defended him. If friendship could not rise to such heights in the face of scorn and criticism it would be a hulk.

We Sigh With Relief.

(Daily Ardmoreite)

The vulgar testimony in the Stillman case is about to close. The slime that has been cast about the United States for more than a year is soon to be removed. It will be remembered that the alleged misconduct of Mrs. Stillman, Fifi Potter, and the alleged philandering of her spouse, James A. Stillman, took the place of the Clara Smith case in the newspapers.

We have had little of anything other than "keyhole peeping Tom" and Indian guide stories to stir our jaded senses for the past year. At times Fifi would drop from sight and Peggy Joyce or Mrs. Southard, female bluebeard, would get a chance at the spotlight.

But when ever these prime favorites of the public lost their grip there was always the record of Fifi to dig into. Dangle love, life in northwoods and a Harlem apartment have been made as familiar as home to the public.

Vice has been almost exalted. Flappers have grabbed the penny thrillers to get a sex thrill from this smut. For smut it is and we are glad that the last curtain is about to ring down upon these distasteful episodes.

Special Weeks.

(Tulsa World)

Human existence seems to be just one darned week after another. Last week was timber week, this week it's health week, next week is no-tobacco week, and a few weeks ago we had hospital week, clean-up week and the good Lord only knows what. Nobody knows what it's all about, but everybody seems to be doing it. It seems fair to suppose that if one wants to be perfectly orthodox one must get sick during hospital week and stay well during health week; one should take to the timber during timber week, and change clothes, take a bath and wash the teeth during clean-up week. During no-tobacco week the use of the weed should be religiously abjured, but either before or after any of these weeks, one, we presume, many do precisely as one pleases without fear of being read out of the order. So far was we know there are several weeks that have not been adopted. If anybody has a particular hobby to ride here's the chance. Pick your week, christen it after your hobby, then climb right on and ride. We only ask that one of the poorest scrawniest weeks of the year be left free; we want that one. After all others have been taken and named we are going to ask that this be made and named a mind-your-own-business week.

U. S. Distrusts Move of Allies To Obtain Spoils in Bulgaria

(By the Associated Press)

SOFIA, May 5.—American business men here complain that the members of the Allied Reparations Commission which controls the Bulgarian budget and limits the country's expenditures are using their official positions to further the enterprises of their country and that discrimination is being practiced against the United States. The members of the commission is limited now to British, French and Italians.

The complaints become so emphatic lately that Charles Wilson, American Minister, had to make representations to the Commission on behalf of the United States government.

The Bulgarian government has shown a predilection for American industrial concerns not only because of their business like methods, favorable prices and high quality of goods but because the Bulgarians are anxious to cultivate closer relations with America for which Bulgarians have a strong sentimental attachment.

Much regret is expressed that the United States is not represented on the Reparations Commission, because it is believed an American member could act as arbitrator in the many disputes that come before the Allied Commissioners.

Two American engineering firms, James Stewart & Company, of New York, and MacDonald & Company, have offered to construct a number of grain elevators, harbor improvements and other engineering works throughout Bulgaria and the government is ready to grant one or the other the contract, but there is said to be some opposition from the Reparations Commission which must be overcome.

A SMILE A DAY

Perfectly Equipped.

At the back door a large and healthy looking individual had asked for "a little something to eat," and had been told that he might have it if he would work a while at the woodpile. He shook his head mournfully.

"I've got the ague," he explained, "and my hand is so untidy that couldn't hit more'n one stick in seven."

"All right!" exclaimed the mistress of the house, "then shake those ashes for me."—Wayside Tales.

Wifely Pride

A mission worker says that, while waiting for the occupant of the first floor of a tenement house to admit him, he chanced to overhear two women conversing on the stairs.

One remarked that her husband always wore a clean shirt every Sunday morning.

"Well, now," responded the other, "I never care much about Sunday, but I always sees that my man has a clean shirt Saturday afternoons, because that's the time he's generally fightin', and when he does take his coat off to fight I likes to know he looks nice an' clean."—Wayside Tales.

Beside the six scholarship winners, D. S. Wolfinger, president of the Oklahoma Bankers association; Eugene P. Gum, secretary of that association; John A. Whitehurst, president of the state board of agriculture; J. B. Eskridge, president of the college; and M. A. ### PRISONERS SHOT IN MUTINY PLOT

Ten or Twelve Are Thought
To Have Been Killed
In Uprisings.

(By the Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, S. C., May 8.—Several prisoners in the South Carolina state penitentiary were shot today by prison guards in putting down a mutiny, according to Chief May of the fire department of this city, who was called on to aid prison authorities. Chief May said he believed "at least 10 or 12 were shot."

The fire chief said a body of prisoners returning to their cells from the main dining room fell upon the guards over them and that the injured men were wounded in putting down the mutiny.

Later information from the prison confirmed the report that a number of prisoners had been wounded but it was said that none were fatally hurt. Between 300 and 400 prisoners were involved in the attempted uprising, it was said.

The charges were the same—conspiracy to extort money and improper action in securing and quashing indictments.

SPENCER TAKES SIDES WITH GOLDSTEIN TODAY
WASHINGTON, May 8.—Senator Spencer, Republican, Mo., appeared today before the republican members of the senate finance committee in behalf of Nat Goldstein, nominated to be internal revenue collector at St. Louis. ## LEAGUE LEADERS TO TOUR ORIENT

American Party To Spread Love of Yankee Game Through the East.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Pending Judge K. M. Landis' consent, a team of major leaguers, accompanied by their wives, newspapermen and two major league umpires, will leave Vancouver Oct. 19 on the Canadian Pacific's "Empress of Canada" for an extended tour of the Orient, visiting Japan, Korea, Manchuria, China, the Philippines, and Hawaii.

The party will be in charge of learning in the land of Wikado, out the Orient because of his accomplishments as a baseball coach at Waseda and Keio Universities, two of the most popular institutions of learning in the land of Kikado. Hunter is also known in major league circles, having been affiliated with the Giants, Cubs, Red Sox and Cardinals.

Two distinct features of this tour are: First, the major leaguers while in Japan, where they play a series of twelve games stretched over a period of five weeks, beginning Nov. 4, will be guests of Waseda and Keio Universities; Second, the enterprise purposes to stimulate interest in America's national game in Japan and to develop a keener sense of the value of athletics and clean sportsmanship to the life of a nation, free from any stain of commercialism.

Leaving Japan, the party will tour through Korea, Manchuria and China, absorbing everything of interest without giving thought to baseball, for no games are scheduled until Manila is reached.

In Manila four games are to be played. Here Hunter's party will be the guests of the American Chamber of Commerce, the Elks' club and Rotarians. Honolulu will be visited on the return trip and San Francisco reached late in January.

The personnel of the party and proposed itinerary is being forwarded to Judge Landis for his official stamp.

against him in 1912 for alleged violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust law, followed by conviction and sentence to one year in jail and fines. The case was appealed, the judgment reversed and a compromise decree was entered. While the case was in progress prominent persons wired President Wilson and asked him to pardon Mr. Patterson and his associates from the sentence imposed but when Mr. Patterson learned of this he sent President Wilson a telegram saying he would not accept a pardon and that all he wanted was "simple justice."

Offered His Factory.

In the world war he placed his factory at the disposal of the government but refused to accept contracts on a cost plus basis. He said it was not right to work on a basis where the more he spent the more he made, because the tax-payers of the nation had to bear the burden.

He termed business a battle of wits and the man who thought the fastest almost always was declared the winner.

Mr. Patterson was the son of Colonel Jefferson Patterson and the grandson of Colonel Robertson Patterson, founder of Lexington, Ky. His mother, Julia Robert Patterson, was the daughter of Colonel John Johnson, famous Ohio Indian agent of the United States government. His wife was formerly Katherine Beck, of Brookline, Mass.

Court Martial Meets Today for Guardsmen On Governor's Order

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 8.—A general court martial of the Oklahoma national guard was to meet today at the office of Adjutant General Charles F. Barrett at the capitol by order of Gov. J. B. A. Robertson. General Barrett explained that the court martial was called to dispose of number of cases in preparation for the annual guard encampment at Fort Sill in July. He said this program is followed annually before the encampment. The court martial has no bearing on the recent order of the governor barring members of the Ku Klux Klan from the guard, he added.

General Barrett said that all trials yet to be held are for minor offenses. Most of the cases have to do with the usual property shortages and various misdemeanors which have occurred in the last few months, he said.

The general explained that commissioned officers can not be tried except at a general court martial.

GEORGE VON ELM TO DEFEND TITLE ON OMAHA LINKS

OMAHA, Neb., May 8.—George Von Elm, of Salt Lake City, winner of last year's tournament, is expected to defend his title when the Trans Mississippi golf tournament is played at the Country Club course here the week of July 10, according to announcement by Francis Gaines, secretary. Some of the best golfers of the Pacific coast, as well as many from middle western and southern states on this side of the Mississippi are also expected to play, according to Mr. Gaines, although the event is set for the same dates as the National open meet at Chicago.

The entry list will remain open to within a short time of the opening of the tournament. Word has been received that R. E. Knepper of Sioux City, runner up to Chick Evans last year in the Western Amateur Championship and Harrison Johnston of St. Paul, who lost only one down last summer to Jesse Grutford in the National Amateur championship may contest Von Elm's crown.

The Country Club is making extensive preparations for the tournament, one of the most important in the west this summer. Additional traps and bunkers are being placed on the course which will be in the best possible condition for championship play on the date of the tournament opening.

The first two days of the tournament will be given over to the qualifying rounds of 18 holes each. The match rounds will be at 36 holes.

SUTTON TO SPEAK TO SOONER GRADS AT COMMENCEMENT

NORMAN, May 8.—(Special)—William S. Sutton, LL. D., dean of the school of education of the University of Texas, has accepted an invitation to deliver the commencement address to the graduating class of the University of Oklahoma at 1922, according to Emil R. Kraettli, secretary of the university.

Doctor Sutton, besides being one of the most prominent members of the Texas faculty, is an author and lecturer of note. He has written several text books on education and kindred subjects and is also a frequent contributor to several leading magazines.

The commencement address will be given at 10:30 a. m. June 6, and the baccalaureate sermon will be delivered Sunday, June 4, by Rev. Edgar D. Salkeld, pastor of the First Christian church of Oklahoma City, Kraettli announced.

The distance an arrow can be sent by a good archer is from 200 to 250 yards.

OUT ON THE COAST

Jesse Doyle, Yankee castoff, is making a bid for a return trip ticket to the major leagues. And thanks to the skillful tutoring of Bill Essick of the Vernon Pacific Coast league club, may realize his ambition. His work in recent games has been brilliant.

Doyle broke into the limelight in 1919 while pitching for Greenville in the South Atlantic league. He won eighteen games and lost but six that year and the following season came back for the same club with twenty-five wins and only eight defeats.

Bob Connery, Yankee scout, grabbed him off. Jesse proved a failure for the Yanks in 1921, however. They turned him over to Atlanta. After losing five games for that club Doyle was shunted to the Joplin Western league club, where he won thirteen and lost thirteen games.

Then the Yankee owners asked Bill Essick, Vernon pilot, to see what he could do with Jesse. Essick has done wonders. Doyle has shown that he can stand the gaff in the Pacific Coast league—where major league vets obtain a new lease on life and make things miserable for striving youngsters like Jesse.

UNION ARMY VETS AND SPANISH WAR HEROES TO MEET

(By the Associated Press)

GUTHRIE, May 8.—Approximately 3,500 men and women—men who wore the blue in the war between the states and those who humbled the Spanish in '98, and women who "kept the home fires burning" during both wars—are expected here May 9, 10 and 11 for the annual joint encampments of the G. A. R., the Spanish War Veterans, the Women of the G. A. R., and the Women's Relief Corps.

Extensive preparations have been made by local civic bodies to provide entertainment for the aged visitors. The G. A. R. gathering will be the 32nd annual encampment of the Oklahoma department. Only about 800 active G. A. R. members remain in the state, according to records at the department headquarters here, but several hundred union civil war veterans who have not maintained their affiliation with the order are expected to swell the ranks of Grant's remaining warriors.

The most spectacular feature of the morning of the second day in which all members of each of the four organizations who are able are expected to participate. The parade, marked by shot scarred flags and other relics of the four years of internal strife, will be about a mile long, according to plans laid out by department officials.

Officers of all organizations will be elected for one year. These elections are expected to take place on the final day, although they may be reached near the close of the second Co. Jacob Amburg, superintendent of the State Union Soldiers' home here, is the present department commander of the G. A. R. Mrs. Ada Foster of Blackwell is the state president of the Women's Relief Corps.

Business meetings of the various organizations will be separate, but all entertainment features of the joint encampments will be enjoyed together. Camp fires in the evening will recall memories of those bivouacs of far-gone years when men, young and sturdy, gathered together to talk of home and loved ones.

The outstanding feature of the entertainment provided by Guthrie citizens is a concert on Wednesday and Thursday evenings by the Guthrie Choral society. These concerts will be held in the Masonic cathedral, and to be the largest Masonic building in the world.

All railroads leading into Guthrie have announced special rates for the encampments of fare and a half.

WARREN, O., GIRLS POSE AS WINNERS IN BOYS' PLAYING

(By the Associated Press)

WARREN, Ohio, May 8.—Playing through what was claimed to be the hardest schedule ever undertaken by a girls' basketball team, Duchess Girls, under auspices of Clarence Hyde Post 278, American Legion, have claimed the world's champion of girls' quints playing boys' rules.

In 23 games, each with a team of the highest calibre either city or district champions in various sections, 20 games resulted in victories for the Warren "wonder five." A total of 619 points was registered by the Legion girls to 393 by opponents. Six Warren girls composed the squad throughout the year.

Victories over undisputed champions of central and western Pennsylvania and Ohio outfits, are included in the list. Skinner Girls of Holyoke, Mass., for five years champions of New England were defeated by a decisive score.

The Duchess girls were capably coached by Warren E. Calvin, All-Ohio conference guard for two years at Hiram college and late of the Trumbull Steel basketball team of Warren, professional basketball champions of Ohio.

COLLEGE NINE IS HAILED AS CHAMP

Tulsa University Now Only Contestant With Locals For State Title.

Before the end of the week, East Central's baseball team will be state collegiate champions, according to Coach M. Z. Thompson, who stated today that his team had the best claim of any in the state to the title. Kingfisher College and Oklahoma Baptist University will be the two teams playing East Central this week.

Wednesday the coach will send his men in against the Baptists and Thursday the same squad will play the Kingfisher team. Of the six college games and seven high school games played this year, the local college team has lost only one conference game, dividing honors with Tulsa University.

Other colleges of the state except those coming here this week have already been eliminated from the championship running. Tulsa University, dividing honors with Ada, will probably be the college to dispute honors, it is pointed out. Oklahoma Aggies have been playing a good season and would also be considered, it was said.

Any college believing it has a team able to defeat the Ada teachers will be given a date on the local calendar. Coach Thompson declared today. This was issued in the form of a challenge. Games to decide state championship will be played at Ada or away, Thompson declared.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS NEAR GOALS IN SPITE OF RAIN

In spite of rain, the First Baptist church had 516 at Sunday school yesterday. It was generally conceded that had the weather been favorable, the goal of 1,000 in attendance would have been reached.

Bouquets were presented to the oldest and youngest mothers by the oldest and youngest fathers. The oldest father present was T. B. McKeown and the oldest mother was Mrs. A. H. Kilpatrick. The presentation speech was made by Hon. Tom D. McKeown, oldest son of the oldest father. The youngest father and mother were Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Kerr. The bouquets were beautiful floral affairs and were symbols of the purity of motherhood. All of the mothers more than fifty years of age were presented with flowers, and a beautiful bouquet, by a unanimous vote of the Sunday school, was presented to Mother McFarland, one of the most faithful teachers in the school. Mrs. McFarland is the mother of Mrs. F. E. Bowman.

Superintendent Riddling announced that another drive for a big attendance will be made in the near future, and at this time the goal will be set at 1500 instead of 1,000.

About 500 pupils were present at the Methodist Sunday school. Carnations were given to the five oldest mothers and a bouquet was given to the mother with the most children and grandchildren present.

British War Veteran Fears Violence When He Seeks Girl's Hand

NEWARK, N. J., May 8.—A request that the British ambassador send a representative to escort him from the station tomorrow so that he would not be molested, has been made by Albert Roberson, British war veteran, who plans to go to Washington to present his charge that private detectives are attempting to railroad him out of the country because of his efforts to win the hand of Miss Mary Culbertson, daughter of Senator Charles A. Culbertson of Texas.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Denial that attempts were made to drive Alexander Robertson, British war veteran, out of the country because of a love affair with the daughter of Senator Culbertson of Texas, was made today by the Burns detective agency which was retained to gain information concerning him. Robertson's movements have been of his own accord, it was said.

British War Veteran Fears Violence When He Seeks Girl's Hand

NEWARK, N. Culbertson of Texas.

MISS MARGUERITE K. O'LEARY, of Reading, Pa., who says she has gained eight pounds and can hardly find words to express her praise for Tanlac for the good the medicine did her.

"I am so happy over what Tanlac has done for me I can hardly find words to express my praise," said Miss Marguerite K. O'Leary, who lives with her parents at 1223 Chestnut St., Reading, Pa. "I wasn't exactly what would be called sick, but for a year I had been all run down and sometimes felt so weak and miserable I could hardly hold up my head. I was so nervous the telephone bell or a door closing would startle me so I would tremble like a leaf.

"I needed something to build me up and give me strength and energy, and that is exactly what Tanlac did. It gave me a fine appetite and improved my digestion. I gained eight pounds, the color came back to my face, my nerves became normal and I soon felt as well as I ever did in my life. It is simply wonderful that medicine could make such a big change in any one. My friends and neighbors are surprised when they see me now, and no wonder, for I look like a different person. Tanlac is grand and I never intend to miss a chance to say a good word about it."

Tanlac is sold by M. A. Waits and all leading druggists. Adv.

WOMAN OF SOUTH SHOWN AS HEROINE

day in all the year that the mothers of America have not consecrated to their children and to the republic by their great endless care. For a year of devotion we have set aside a day of recognition. There is little for us to say; there is much for us to feel; there is much for us to do. This is a day for the unfolding of very dear memories and the making of very high resolves. It is more than fortunate, in the mysterious scheme of things that there has been a place made in the lives of every man of us for a very holy memory and an inspiration, whose name is "Mother". So long as men live, not by bread alone, so long shall this word "Mother" remain the strongest and sweetest word in any language of mankind.

Through the Dark Valley
The last unhappy years have led the mothers of the world through the dark valley and the shadows. The most terrible of wars has been fought above the bosoms of women, whose sufferings and long sacrifices have gone by unvoiced in the silence. "Though America was more fortunate than most of the nations in this war, nevertheless for every American boy who went out to serve, there was more than one American woman who spent a dark season of suffering; and for every American boy who fell, some woman's life was darkened with deep sorrow.

"Next to God, and his Son, the most glorious and holiest name that was ever pronounced by the lips of man, is 'Mother'. It is so because she who bears it is most like her Father in Heaven, since her love is conceded to be next in depth, purity and tenderness to His; and it is because she has this wonderful love that she has been given the highest office that can be filled by any of God's creatures, that of 'Mother'.

"All men are not capacitated to express their reverence for a good woman so beautifully as some have done, but all men, notwithstanding their apparent admiration for the beauty of woman who do not always conduct themselves in a way that will permit of their being classified as 'good', are ready and willing to take off their hats and bow their heads in reverence to a good woman. They will not see her imposed upon, or treated rudely, nor disrespectfully, and this is because she is good. And it can be said that this is especially true, if she be a 'Mother', because motherhood everywhere, even among savage tribes is paid loving tribute.

Men Will Remember.
"Man never gets too old to recall the tender care of mother, nor too degraded to respect the mothers of others.

Now, as ever, the world's welfare and happiness depends more largely upon its mothers than upon all others, for the reason that their work is the most important, and therefore, the most effective of all work. It is mother who stands most faithfully by the true, and the good, and the beautiful; who pleads most earnestly for peace and love. In the history of Jesus of Nazareth, the deeds of the Marys were characteristic of the fidelity, self-sacrifice, tenderness of heart, obedience to God, and all those other sweet and noble virtues of good women. In the house of Simon, at the home of Lazarus and his sisters, at the Cross, at the tomb—Mary—woman was found tenderly ministering to him who was love incarnate. Now, as then, it is she who stands by the cross who suffers and toils, who sacrifices and prays, who hopelessly labors and patiently endures, that love may triumph.

On Mother's Day
These splendid attributes of mothers are given beautiful and well merited recognition in the setting apart of Mother's Day on which occasion, everyone can individually and collectively pay tribute to her whom Coleridge has called the 'holiest thing alive'.

"I rejoice that this is an indissoluble union of indestructible states, and I trust in God that it may always be perpetual to show to what lofty heights, what broad eminence the Anglo-Saxon race under free institutions may attain. I rejoice that the boys and girls of this generation are taught to reverence the graves of the fallen heroes of both sides. I rejoice in this because it keeps afresh in this country, memories of the men and women of the times of our Civil War, that ought not to perish, and I regret that it could be found in the hearts of anyone to say that the sacrifices of the women of the North and South, in the time of war, should be forgotten.

The Soldier's Angel.
"Is there a man here, who carried a musket, that does not remember some blessing from woman's lips that followed him from the old hearthstone to the battlefield? Is there one here who suffered with wounds in the hospital or in the field, that has not occasion to gratefully remember the tenderness of some blessed woman? Our children should not be permitted to forget these things, and we do a service to our country and justice to our own feelings of virtue, when the mothers of today lead their little children around the graves of fallen heroes of the Confederacy. We are willing that others should teach their children the faith to which their judgments and consciences give adherence, and we will do the same. We will not teach ours that their fathers were rebels or traitors, nor will we allow them to be so taught by any man or from any book, but we will teach them the truth, as their sires hold the truth to be.

"The people of the South cannot do less than this; justice to those who sealed their convictions with their blood and whose memory we today honor; to those who survive the contest and to posterity must do this measure of fidelity.

"I believe that genius hath not conceived nor skill executed, monument, shrine, or temple, however grand in conception or wonderful in execution, that can fully illustrate the courage of the Confederate soldier. To erect such a structure as will fitly typify and symbolize his courage in war, and his fortitude and uncompromising heroism in peace, there must be summoned to the task those whose souls are aflame with celestial fire, and its walls must be lifted so far toward the Heavens that stoops to enfold him, that their towering summits will pierce the pending canopy of clouds and catch the eternal radiance of the fixed and fadeless stars.

Historians Fail.
"Historians have oft essayed to set forth the story of the southern woman's services and sacrifices, but have turned baffled from the task. Poets have hymned in loftiest numbers the achievements of warriors and of statesmen, but have found their sublimest verse too feeble to translate her record into worthy song.

"Women of the South, I bring no legal or constitutional argument to defend that cause which you consecrated by your suffering, modified by your valor, and hallowed by your sacrifices. It needs no defense either by the deliverances of statesmen or the decrees of jurists. Whenever or wherever any people rise and bare their bosoms to the invader of their native land, and the despoiler of their homes, their action by its inherent moral power, is lifted into a realm where no human statute has application and no human tribunal has jurisdiction.

Recognition Shall Come.
"There is a beautiful faith to which I subscribe that there is no death, and that beyond the veil that hides from us the unknown land, we still live and take cognizance of the things of earth, and I believe that the disembodied spirits of the South's deathless dead, with the unclouded vision of an immortal faith looks upon just such scenes as this, and I know that I voice the sentiment of every man who is worthy to wear above his heart the Southern Cross of Honor, and of every woman who is worthy to have descended from Southern ancestry, when I declare in the presence of God and these earthly witnesses that the cause of which the flag of the Confederacy was the emblem, was right when that flag arose in new born and virgin beauty mid the booming of guns at Fort Sumpter, was right when it floated in triumph above the victorious host at Manassas; was right when it caught the April sunshine amid its folds on the fateful field of Shiloh; was right in that hour when that consecrated captain of a glorious host, with the simple faith of a child, placed his hand in the nail pressed hand of the crucified, and passed over the river to rest under the shade of the trees leaving us a priceless heritage, stamped with the seal of immortality, the name and fame of Stonewall Jackson. It was right when this flag streamed full and free above the tossing plume of that greatest cavalry leader the world ever saw, the very genius of battle incarnate. Nathan Bedford Forrest. It was right when Lee, the greatest soldier who ever spoke the English tongue, and the greatest man ever fashioned by the hand of God, with the light of battle in his eye, looked upon a band made the historic slope at Gettysburg, the pathway to immortality. It was right when with the rays of a fading glory lingering among its torn and tattered folds, it sank amid the wall of a nation's agony behind the blood-stained hills of Appomattox—and it will be right before the tribunal of Imperial history and right before the judgment bar of God."

CITY BURIAL RECORD NOW BEING COMPILED
For the first time in the city's history a record of the burials in Rosedale cemetery was being entered today on books furnished for that purpose, according to Charley Deaver, finance commissioner. All burials in the old and new cemetery extending back to as far as 1903 will be entered, it was said. This will be an enormous amount of work, as several hundred names are to be entered, it was said.

Farmers' Column

By Byron Norrell

G. R. Smith, of New Albany, Penn., in a article appearing in the O. K. Poultry Journal, says the verdict of every man whose opinion is worthy of notice is that the outlook for poultry culture is brighter than ever before. In this connection he calls attention to the rapid growth of the baby chick business which now runs up into the millions every year. Evidently this is taking the place of the egg business to a considerable extent.

Some years ago our chickens were badly afflicted with sorehead. I was told that this was due to mosquito bites. I sprayed the hen house with kerosene oil every night during the mosquito season and the trouble ceased. The insects are especially bad on young chickens, the older ones generally protecting themselves by putting their heads under their wings when attacked.

The News is in receipt of a marked copy of a negro paper, presumably sent to us by an opponent of R. H. Wilson. The item referred to is intended to throw discredit on Wilson by insinuating that he is bidding for the negro vote by making a string of promises about enlarging Langston university by the addition of an agricultural school. As for myself I think an agricultural school for the negroes would be a good thing. The negro is with us and I think it is to the interest of whites and blacks alike that he be given a chance to make a better farmer or mechanic of himself. Even if I did not take this view of the case I would resent this thing of playing dirty politics. I have heard that a certain one of Wilson's opponents has already begun a campaign along the old lines of mudslinging and vilification and this time I am going to vote against any man who tries to play such a game. Therefore, if what I have heard of this man is true, and I believe it is, I am going to work against his nomination. If Wilson should resort to the same tactics I shall likewise work against him. We have had enough mudslinging in politics and it is time the better element of citizenship put a stop to it by throwing into the discard every candidate, high and low, who seeks to get an office by covering his opponents with dirt. As for the item mentioned above it is highly probable that this particular opponent of Wilson, managed to get it inserted. He probably bought several thousand copies of the paper to mail to democratic voters.

Swift & Con's Bulletin.
CHICAGO, Ill., May 6.—Receipts of eggs in the large markets the last few days of April were extremely heavy, the surplus going into storage. Indications are that the number of cases in storage this year is equal to that of last year. The production is apparently holding up well, with prospects of good production throughout the summer. The best demand from now on will be for eggs from the northern states on account of climatic conditions. Producers should market eggs often during the hot weather.

The movement of live poultry is normal for this time of year. There should be free marketing of roosters from now on. Producers wishing to have infertile eggs, which keep better during the hot weather, should sell the old roosters within the next few weeks.

Favorable weather conditions are responsible for a larger production of butterfat, and as a consequence, the manufacture of butter is showing a rapid increase.

There will be some complaints for the next few weeks on butter showing a weedy flavor, which can be overcome by producers keeping their cows away from pastures containing rag-weed, wild onion, etc.

Kill Potato Bugs.
By D. C. Mooring

Extension Horticulturist, A. and M. College

Do not overlook the combatting of the potato bug. The young potato bugs are the ones that do the greatest amount of injury in the average potato patch and if properly handled their injury may be easily prevented. Probably as easy and practical a method of poisoning them is to dust them with an arsenic dust.

Take one part of the powdered arsenate of lead and ten to twelve parts of air slaked or hydrated lime and mix together thoroughly. In case the lime appears to be a little lumpy, it should be run through a wire screen such as is usually found on windows and doors. It is very seldom that a piece of such wire cannot be found around home.

Make a sack of about six or eight inches wide and a foot deep out of a piece of cheese cloth or any other thin material that is available and place the lime and arsenate of lead, which has been mixed in the sack and dust it on the plants early in the morning while the dew is on.

By holding to the top of the sack with the left hand and picking up the bottom of the bag and dropping it forcefully over the top of the plant, the dust will sift through the bottom of the sack onto the plant. Care should be exercised in not permitting the bottom of the sack to come in contact with the moist plants as the sack will clog up.

One timely application should practically rid the patch of the pests. Watch the plants carefully and if a second application is necessary, apply the same.

To some this may seem a tedious operation and slow but a potato patch can be gone over about as rapidly as one furrow to the row could be applied.

Gardeners Multiplied.
STILLWATER, Okla.—Oklahoma gardeners are being multiplied several times in many sections of the state, according to D. C. Mooring, extension horticulturist with the A. and M. College. Tomato acreage alone, Mooring says, has been reported from a few places as follows: Broken Bow, 200 acres; Antlers, 75 acres; Ft. Towson, 35 acres; Soper, 50 acres; Hugo, 150 acres; Sayer, 11 acres, and Grant 15 acres. Broken Bow, Antlers and Fort Towson, he says, grew their own plants while the others were grown under the auspices of the chamber of commerce at Hugo and sold at $1 per thousand.
